Chairman John Harr Says—

Big Date Will Be November 1-2

In the oppressive heat of mid-July and surrounded by the pressure of completing everything left until the waning days of the summer session it is somewhat irrelevant to direct one's thoughts and plans for future months. Since time, however, has an annoying habit of stealing unnoticed upon a person, it may not be amiss to remind you that the big date for this fall's calendar is Homecoming, November 1 and 2.

For students who remain here on this campus this date means a great deal of work. For you who will be returning to your jobs, mark this date down now and plan to return for this event. The circumstances certainly will be different from those which surround you now. Plans are under way for making this date a memorable one. The opportunity to relax, renew old acquaintances, and pay homage to your alma mater should not be lightly dismissed.

We'll be looking for you when the leaves have begun to fall and the air has that crisp refreshing autumn feel. Don't disappoint us by your failure to return for Homecoming, as it is planned for YOU.—The Chairman.

AT THE ENTRANCE . . . of the College drive is this marker erected by Alpha Phi Omega. College students discussing the marker are Charlene Rosmann and Mary Ann Romesburg.

Graduate Objectives . . .

The objectives of the graduate division are to improve the qualifications and capabilities of teachers for the public schools. In order to accomplish these objectives a program is offered which provides opportunity for the student to develop broader insights:

- A. In the major field or area of specialization through:
 1. Study of advanced course work which is related to the work in the public schools.
 2. Interpretation and application of findings of related research to specific school programs, as well as the pursuit of individual independent study and investigation.
 3. Participation in directed laboratory experiences either on the campus or in approved situations for those students for whom satisfactory arrangements can be made.
- B. In the professional area through more intensive study of certain phases of professional education subject matter and the addition of other phases, depending upon the area of specialization. For both the graduate elementary and secondary teacher, this would include the study of:
 1. The contributions of philosophy, history, sociology, and psychology to the development of education.
 2. The relationships and interpretations of the school to the community and its institutions.
 3. The development and learning experiences of children and youth, including diagnostic remedial procedures.
 4. Basic statistical concepts and research techniques applied to the interpretation and use of professional educational literature.
- C. In general education outside the professional area and the major field.

We Pass This Way But Once!

The next time you enter a classroom for a scheduled class, look around you. Observe.

And then turn your thoughts inward to your own being and to why you are here, what you are contributing. Did you ever stop to realize that this little group in this classroom in which you are now seated will never again meet with all its members present under the same situation and circumstances?

Do you feel satisfied with your semester's work? The semester isn't over yet, but it is quickly passing and in a month we shall have forgotten the heat of the summer and the long assignments that were given us; but will we forget the association and the educational experiences that we have shared? Have we given the instructors an even break?

As we ponder the summer's work, let us look ahead, of course, to the future, but let us also realize that we pass this way but once.

Graduate Student Observes Changes

The situation found in college classes where older students are in competition with younger students; where experienced students compete with less experienced students; where advanced students are in classes with students having few hours in the particular field of study; and where students interested in the subject are in classes with those merely seeking certification has been noted by the writer of this article.

In one class the writer remembers that he sat next to a lady who had been his teacher when he was in the third grade. He was a younger member in classes here in which older teachers, school principals, and superintendents were enrolled.

At times, the writer remembers having had a feeling that the competition or race for grades was somewhat unfair.

Now as a much older student, the writer has the feeling that perhaps the situation is unfair for the older student this time, since he realizes that the older student may have many problems on his mind other than the subject at hand. The older eyes may not be as good for the required reading or research. The subject may be entirely new to the older student, or much foundation material or prerequisite work may have been forgotten.

What should be the attitude concerning this situation?

Should the instructor be blamed for teaching something in his field which may be technical or difficult? Should the administration be blamed for allowing such a situation to occur? Should there be a feeling of shame or timidity on the part of older persons when they come back to college to take more work in their major fields or in new fields in which they have had no opportunity to study?

This writer believes that we should encourage each other, both younger and older students, in seeking information, skills, and truth that we may live more abundantly, teach more effectively, and, perchance, contribute a bit to the uplift of mankind.

Kappa Pi Accepts Two New Members

Delta Gamma chapter of Kappa Pi, national honorary art fraternity, held a special meeting on July 15 in the exhibit room of the department of fine arts.

The fraternity initiated two new members, Mrs. Martha Nelson Boyd, of Hamburg, Ia., formerly of Maryville; and Miss Hettie Mae Woodward, formerly of Maryville and now of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Mrs. Boyd will be director of art in the elementary schools of Hamburg in 1957-58. Miss Woodward, who is a teacher of art in Cincinnati, is a graduate of this College. She took her master's degree at the Teachers College of Columbia University.

Officers present at the meeting included Carol Gamble, president; Daniel Dorsey, vice-president; and Gene James, secretary. Al Groothuis, former president of the organization, presided at the initiation.

Alumnae members present included Mrs. Rolande Thompson Pinkerton, Mrs. Betty Long, Mrs. Thompson of Ravenwood, and Mrs. Dean Dorman.

Art Class Displays Work

How artistic are your summer session fellow students?

Go to the second floor and see the unusual display of portfolios, with original monograms, made by the Fine Arts 11 class.

See the quotations, illustrated stories, and imaginative designs in color displayed in the art department on the first floor.

Miss Olive DeLuce and the Fine Arts 11 classes invite students to visit the art department and see the display.

Have You Ever Seen— A Christmas Egg Tree?

Have you ever decorated a Christmas tree with egg shells? Such is the intriguing hobby of Miss Kathryn McKee, kindergarten teacher at Horace Mann.

Her idea came from an article in a magazine which she saw a number of years ago. Since she lives in an apartment, she feels that a small tree is sufficient.

A branch from a thorn tree makes up the trunk and branches of this decorative tree. The branch is enameled gold, and the container in which it is placed is covered with gold foil.

Symbols Are Used

Christmas symbols such as the baby Jesus and reindeer are put inside the eggs. The shells of the eggs are decorated with pearls, sequins, and beads. Each egg requires 30 to 45 minutes' work. The only other decorations on the tree are some large gold beads.

Predominating colors are gold and the Christmas colors, red and green. One of Miss McKee's favorite eggs is one with aqua sequins and pearls and little white deer inside.

Material that she uses inside the egg has been obtained from Christmas corsages and dime stores. Many people who have heard about her tree have given her items to use.

Students Make Easter Tree

Her first intentions were to share the tree with her students, but friends thought it was too pretty and elaborate. However, she did help the students make their own egg tree at Easter. She has also made a tree with twelve eggs for her sister.

She says that eggs with very white shells are prettier than those with brown shells. Glue used to make the decorations stick makes the eggs more durable. No two of her eggs are alike.

Miss McKee enjoys doing this work. She says her hobby "has created pleasure in trying to find different things that will go into the little tree."

Campus Briefs . . .

Miss Marsha Daniels, an art major at this College, is instructor in art in a summer camp for girls in the woods of Minnesota. She reports that the girls at the camp are very much interested in art and that she and her assistant are kept busy guiding in art all through the day.

Mrs. Don Adwell, a graduate in Library Science, formerly of Stanberry, visited here recently. She is in charge of five elementary libraries in Oak Lawn, Illinois, a suburb of Chicago. Mr. Adwell works for an airline nearby.

Miss Mabel Cook, chairman of the home economics department, will attend a meeting of the American Vocational Association in Philadelphia the first week in August. The following week she will attend a National Conclave of Kappa Omicron Phi at Marshall College, Huntington, West Virginia.

Miss Ruth Miller, of the music department, will spend her August vacation at her home in St. Joseph.

Dr. Frank Grube, chairman of the English department, will represent the Missouri Association of Teachers of English at a leadership conference of the Missouri

State Teachers Association. August 5 to 7. The conference will be held at Bunker Hill Ranch Resort near Mountain View.

A tea was held in the home economics lounge Monday, July 22, at two o'clock, by the foods class. Each member of the class invited a faculty member and a friend. Refreshments were made and served by the girls, who are Ruth Boatwright, Beverly Crane, Mary Dale Flora, Lovell Hunzinger, Marty Landers, Mildred Richardson, and Norma Wagner. Miss Ann Sullivan is the instructor.

Mr. Earle Moss, of the music department, has tentative plans to spend part of August in New York City.

Miss Thelma Long, of the home economics department, recently attended the N.E.A. convention in Philadelphia.

Sammy Carpenter, a 1950 graduate, is continuing his study towards a Ph. D. degree in chemistry at the University of Missouri, Columbia.

Edwin Rector Enjoys Teaching Navajo Indians in New Mexico

Edwin Rector, a summer student, has a most interesting and rewarding occupation. Three years ago, he and Mrs. Rector began teaching the Navajos in New Mexico.

The school, sponsored by Indian Service, is run by Mr. and Mrs. Rector and Mrs. Epps, a colored teacher, along with several Navajos who work as cooks, dormitory attendants, and a bus driver.

The students board at the school, which is for beginners and first graders whose ages run from 6-12. About one-half of the beginners speak no English; thus English is taught first and is then followed by other regular courses.

Older beginners are sent to Utah, California, and Oregon for a five-year program. During the first three years they are taught regular subjects and during the last two years they learn a trade which enables them to go into the world better prepared to make a living.

There are now about 65 students in the school. Still, there are many which have to be turned away. Teachers are in great demand for these youngsters who are eager to learn and so grateful for what little they are given.

Mr. Rector says that in no other field could one be so appreciated or thanked so often.

Mr. Rector has returned to the College to finish his degree. He plans to go back to the Navajo school where his help is needed and appreciated so much.

Speech and Drama Department to Give Comedies in Assembly

Tomorrow, at 1:30 p. m. the Speech and Drama Department will present two one-act plays in the College auditorium. Much work and many rehearsals have been participated in by Dr. Fulson and the cast members. Now they present the two plays for your taxation and enjoyment.

"Papa Never Done Nothing . . . yet" will be the first of the two plays. This short play stars Mrs. Kristal Williamson as Mrs. Dewberry, and Mrs. Clyde Bowen, a reporter for the Dallas "News," the reporter interviews Mrs. Dewberry about her late husband's movements in life. Mrs. Dewberry answers, "Papa never done nothing." But you will soon note that he did do something—that is, did almost everything.

"Family Album," the second of two plays, is a much longer one-act play, but the two together could only last one hour. Cast members are Carl Redmon, Jacky Adams, Sue Humphrey, Joan Hanson, Delbert Smith, Louis Parker, Jesse Masters, Paul Swillin, and Donna Bowen.

Louis Banker have executed the scenery to be used for the productions. Of particular interest is the fact that the first play will be acted entirely on the apron of the stage, in front of the curtains. The only scenery will be a door in the center of the curtains. All the furniture needed for the play will be on the apron, and all action takes place there.

Immediately after the completion of that play, the stage crew, Larry Ramsey and Floyd Worley, will remove the door and the furniture, and the second play will begin, for its scenery is already set up on the main stage. Scenery for the "Family Album" consists of three flats, one in the back center, and one centered on each side. The backdrops give the stage the appearance of a room. The rear flat contains French doors that lead into the hall. The flat to the audience's left contains a window that overlooks the back steps and woodlot. The third flat is a fireplace. All of these are painted to resemble the type of home of the Victorian age. The furniture is of the same age.

Wedding Bells Will Ring Soon

Miss Ann Sullivan

Wedding bells will soon be ringing for Miss Ann Sullivan, faculty member in the home economics department. She will marry C. S. degree from Kansas State College, Manhattan, Kansas. She is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority.

Dr. Terhaar received his B. S. and S. degrees from the University of Idaho in Moscow, Idaho. He earned his Ph. D. degree at Kansas State College. He is affiliated with the Kappa Epsilon fraternity. He is now associate professor in the entomology department at Kansas State College.

They will reside in Manhattan.

Residence Hall Dons New Look

ENJOYING THE PLEASANT ATMOSPHERE . . . of the fireplace in the lounge in Residence Hall are Gail Flynn, Emma Yurkovich and Diane DeWitt.

To make college dormitory life more enjoyable for students of this campus, Residence Hall is donning a new look with an inviting, pleasant atmosphere.

New highlights in the lounge are carpeting, draw drapes, and brass and black fixtures for the fireplace which has been redone. All the yellow furniture in the lounge is new, and many potted plants add to the pleasant atmosphere.

Freshly-painted pale green walls and light creme colored ceilings are found in the lounge and throughout the halls. New light fixtures for the lounge, the halls, and the room of Mrs. Elizabeth Luer, director of women's housing, have been ordered.

New radiators have been installed. All of the new furniture has arrived. Three card tables and matching chairs, corner tables, and lamps are among the new pieces of furniture. Some of this new furniture is upholstered with Naugahyde, which is washable.

The recreation hall is being sandd at the present time. All new furniture will be put in this room. A small kitchen in which the girls can cook is being constructed in a room joining the recreation hall. Soft drink vending machines are in the kitchen.

Every available space will be used. Some of the former furniture has been arranged on the ground floor hallway for the relaxation of the students.

Mrs. Luer commented that she is quite happy with all of the improvements. There will be many pleasant surprises for the students returning for the fall semester.

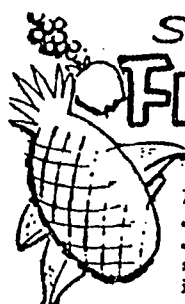

Dr. George to Visit in Kansas

Physical Education Graduate Students Eat Fried Chicken

The second annual picnic for the physical education graduate students and professors was held at the College Park, July 16. There were 54 persons at the picnic.

The menu was chicken, green beans, and all of the trimmings that you would think of for a picnic.

This was truly an eye-raising affair, for as Dr. H. D. Peterson has said, "It is a fine thing for the students and the professors to come together in social association so that there can be a closer bond of understanding between said students and instructors."

There were many games and types of competition at the picnic, one of which was the first annual golf tournament for graduate students and professors. There were 16 participants in this golf tourney. It was divided into two parts. Bill Burnham took first place in the individual handicap. His handicap was three or four strokes, according to Dr. Peterson.

Coach Ryland Milner won the scratch score round completing nine holes in 39 strokes (4 under par. Not bad, Coach). There is no handicap in a scratch score round.

The students who participated in this outing felt that it was invaluable to the professionalization of themselves and a greater professionalization of their field.

This was the first effort of any department of the graduate school at this college of this sort with a distinct aim of bringing the student and instructor closer together.

A point which is worthy of mentioning is that this was a family picnic with family fun, which also tends to lend itself to professionalization, according to Dr. Peterson.

In the graduate school, the physical education department has the greatest enrollment of any department, a total of 17.

Fishing May Be Energetic Sport Or a Relaxing One

The girls in the picture above are just joshing, of course, but to many individuals fishing is rather a serious and energetic sport. There is a group of students on the campus this summer that have fished every spot of water from St. Joseph to the Lake of Three Fires.

Fishing is as old as man himself. If any of you have read the book "Sabre Tooth Curriculum," you will have an accurate and brief history of how fishing came from a necessity to an industry to a sport.

To a few people, like Al Brooks, fishing is the nth of relaxation and enjoyment. To sit on a bank, wiggle your toes in the mud, put your hat over your eyes, lean against that broad oak tree, prop the pole on your knees and fish—now that is "livin'."

Those of you who are culturally inclined can wiggle your toes in the mud, prop your pole, and read Shakespeare.

Fishing has all sorts of avenues of entertainment and relaxation.

Football to Start September 2

By Jamie Tankersley

On September 2, 1957, the official football season will begin. On the first day all uniforms will be checked out to prospective participants in football.

If you are planning to play football for Northwest Missouri State College you should be here on the first day. According to Coach Ryland Milner, the first day is the important day of football practice.

"We must all be here to start together so that we can continue to play together as a working, well organized team if we intend to hold our own in the rough season to come," emphasizes the Coach.

As those of you who follow football very closely have observed, the football camp is one week later this season because of the Coach's heartfelt need of a tight organization where all are here at the same time.

It is easy to observe also that on September 4 freshmen will begin orientation and will register the following Friday.

Our first game is the toughest of the season. Our boys will meet on the gridiron the small college champions of 1956, St. Joseph's College of Indiana. This should be a terrific game. Unfortunately, it will be played at St. Joseph, Indiana. Our first home game will be at the College stadium, September 28. We shall meet Fort Hays that night.

Following is a complete football schedule for those of you who will not be in attendance next semester, but who are interested in following football as alumni.

1957 Football Schedule
Sept. 21 St. Joseph's, Away, 2 p.m.
28 Fort Hays, Here, 8 p.m. (Scout Night)
Oct. 5 William Jewell, Away, 8 p.m.

12 Springfield, Away, 8 p.m.
19 Rolla, Here, 8 p.m. (Dad's Night)
25 Kirksville, Away, 8 p.m.
Nov. 2 Warrensburg, Here, 2 p.m. (Homecoming)
9 Cape Girardeau, Here, 2 p.m. (High School Day)

We are looking forward to a good season next year with high hopes riding on our returning lettermen and transfer students. The things we need most in this sport are fan participation, active alumni backing, a live interest of all persons concerned, and, above all, a personal enthusiasm of each of us to support those men on the field with our voices and our hearts.

See you next fall, either as a student or as just a fan who is interested in seeing the athletic program at this school expanding and becoming better.

Random Shots . . .

SENIORS . . . Don't forget that you won't be able to have breakfast in bed Aug. 2 as this is the date for the Senior Breakfast. It will be held in the Union at 8 o'clock.

GRADUATION . . . August 2, 1957, will be a memorable date for approximately 134 persons. Nine of these will be obtaining their master's degrees while the others will be graduating seniors.

SUMMER RECREATION . . . The physical education department is well pleased with the participation in the summer recreation program of all of the summer students. This has been one of the best summers, recreation-wise, that the Northwest Missouri State College has ever had.

GOOD BY AND GOOD LUCK . . . This is for all graduating seniors. This message comes from the whole student body and is directed to each and every senior.

WELCOME BACK . . . We hope to see all of you back this coming fall, as we enjoyed your being with us this summer. If you are among the persons who will return to teach this fall we say good luck to you also.

Tennis Fans Plan August Tourney

The second week in August, there is tentatively planned the first annual summer tennis tournament at Northwest Missouri State College. This is not a school sponsored activity; however, the net men will be using our courts, and therefore we feel that we have a certain responsibility in publicizing this tourney.

This tournament is sponsored by A. Joe Whitaker, county superintendent of schools at Bedford, Iowa, who is a rabid tennis enthusiast.

The tournament is expected to be a boon for tennis in the northwest Missouri area, and for the local talent here in Maryville. Some of the prospective entrants are Barney Parker, Warren Landess, Charley Burri, Bob Alcorn, Marvin Murphy, and, of course, Mr. Whitaker.

These are just a few of the individuals who are interested in furthering tennis in this part of the state. All of you who are interested can usually find Mr. Whitaker on the College courts Saturday and Sunday afternoons.
